NOTES.

The Episcopal church is yet without a rector.

The foot walk over the Canal Bridge at Mill street, needs repairing.

Trams are becoming numerous. What shall be done with them is still a vexed question.

Mr. and Mrs. ARTHUR DOBNER returned to Bristol yesterday after an extended Western tour.

Turk steam fire engine was out yesterday pumping the gas tank full of water. The boys received $25 for the job.

HARRY HOFF, an employee of Hopworth & Collins, accidentally sawed off the end of one of his fingers last Monday.

Swiss hungry children entered the cellar of Mrs. Helen Pison last Thursday night and captured a quantity of provisions.

On last Friday a game of base ball was played at Andalusia, between the National Athletic Club and the Danites of Bristol, and resulted in a score of 11 to 11.

Four most sensible men's parade was heard of as at Bristol, Penn., lately. It cleared $36 for the two companies. That's what the New York Tribune says.

City Company No. 2 tested their hose coupling last Friday which had been repaired by the Bristol mechanics, Dancy and Brother. The trial was perfectly satisfactory.

Two grocery stores of Cape William Jones, this side of the Hollow bridge was entered by burglars last Thursday night, and a barrel of macaroni and six pounds of butter stolen.

PETER SMITH, a runaway, was seen yesterday riding at the Newtown township house on Saturday. George Ross and Harman Jones will do the speaking on the occasion.

At the regular monthly meeting of the Union Building Association held last Monday evening one loan was paid to Cordelia G. Carille and four loans to Barley Croan, all at $25.20 premium per loan.

The new postal cards are now to be had at our post office. They are much handsomer than the old ones, being printed on a lighter shade of better quality card. There is however no advance in the price to customers.

On Friday night last burglars made an unsuccessful attempt to enter the jewelry store of Alfred K. Baylis, on Mill street. They tried to pry off the shutters of the door and failing in that tried to force in the plate glass window.

The Bristol School Board have authorized the committee on buildings to purchase Edward Davis's lot, on the corner of Washington and Pond streets, for $1,000, for the purpose of erecting thereon an additional school house.

BARTLEY JONES, formerly a resident of this vicinity, and well known to many of the citizens of Bucks county, was on the Republican ticket of Plate county, Nebraska, as County Treasurer, and we presume was elected last Tuesday.

The counting room of the Farmers' National Bank is much improved in appearance by the neat frescoing which has just been completed by James Lyndall. A life size vignette of the late President, Anthony Burton, has been hung upon the wall.

REV. J. S. COOK, pastor of the Bristol M. E. Church delivered on last Sunday evening a very excellent discourse to the brethren of Bristol. The firemen attended in large numbers and filled the pews on one side of the middle aisle and half on the opposite side.

A MURRAY McILVAINE has sold the well-known homestead of the Rodman family, known as Flushing, in Bensalem township, to C. S. Taylor for $10,000. The neighborhood deeply regret that Mr. McIlvaire's family are about leaving the vicinity.

IRIAM A. WILLIAMS, Esq., of Tinton was selected by the Republican Committee last Thursday as the nominee for Assembly to fill the place made vacant by the death of Iveson Mitchell the regular nominee. Mr. Williams says he will enter the canvass to win at the November election.

Miss Lizzie B. Roberts, who is now spending the season at the Millersville Normal school, is a member of the "B" division, and will most probably graduate next July. The classification of the eight oldest students from this locality is also given in recent letters received from the same source.

MATTHEW DOLAN and Lloyd Brown have dissolved the partnership existing between them, and will hereafter run separate and rival establishments. We wish both success.

AL DELANEY has taken charge of the wheelwright shop, formerly occupied by J. L. Brown, and the business will hereafter be carried on under his direction.

The epiphyse has seriously attacked a large number of horses in this locality, though no fatal results are reported. Patent medicine purporting to cure the disease, and advertised to relieve the animals from this disease, are doing a good business in the city.

On Sunday afternoon, the Harbor Baptist Church will hold a Sunday school anniversary Session, several distinguished Baptists from different educational institutions being expected.

THE THREE YOUTHFUL ADVENTURES, who ran away from their parents here about six weeks ago, have been traced, and are rather against their will. They have traversed Kansas, Montgomery, Philadelphia and Chester counties, are little better now than half starved, fatigued, ragged and tired.

Protracted meetings began here on Sunday evening last, by a sermon from Rev. Uriah Weidner. The pastors of the Harbor and Hartsville churches, will lend assistance this week.

Quite a number of people attended the Jay Cooke sale two weeks ago, although we have not heard of many of the articles there disposed of being brought into this section.

M. Martin of this place has several blooded calves and young stock, which have recently been awarded premiums at the county fairs.

The Teacher's Annual Association will meet on Potomac upon the 25th of the present month.

The jury in the case of Sney and Parks, at Clearfield, acquitted Sney and convicted Parks of riot and conspiracy. Judge Orvis sentenced Parks to undergo one year's imprisonment in the Western Penitentiary at hard labor, and to pay a fine of one dollar, with costs of prosecution amounting to about $300. Parks is now in the Clearfield Jail. His friends will make application for his pardon at the next meeting of the Board of Pardon.

The last item of interest to Harrisburg is the chain of the Philadelphia papers, that the Memorial Hall for the Centennial Exhibition, it was so understood when the Legislature made the liberal appropriation for that structure. The Philadelphiaans insist that Gov. Harris is committed to the removal.

Another publisher's strike is expected in Pittsburgh this winter. The manufacturers have asked the publishers for a reduction of one dollar per ton, which would make the rate $4.50, and the publishers insist upon a sliding scale and say they must "go out," if a reduction below the market price of iron is attempted.

The Tradesmen's Industrial Exposition at Pittsburgh was opened to the public on Saturday. The attendance was fair. The main building is 600 feet long by 160 feet wide, and Power Hall, the new machinery is displayed, covers a space of 200 by 60 feet. All the space covered occupies six acres.

George W. Patterson, a member of the last New Jersey Legislature, has been indicted for embezzlement.

COUNCIL PROCEEDINGS.

A stated meeting of Council was held in the Town Hall, last Monday evening. Members present: Charles E. Scott, Burgess; Charles Price, H. S. Wright, A. L. Packer, James M. Slack, S. S. Hines, Jonathan Wright and J. Wesley Wright. Minutes of preceding meetings read and approved. The Burgess passed over to the Treasurer $2.50 collected by the pound master of James Kelly, for horse running at large.

BILLS PASSED.

JOSEPH O. THOMAS, Advertising and Printing, 13 25 James Street, Labor on Streets, 28 30.

A. L. Packer, chairman of the Street Committee reported that the crossing ordered at Wood and Penn streets had been laid.

A petition from Thomas Hughes & Co., asking that three oil lamps be placed on the Deaver dam road, at the corner of Buckley street and two between the Canal bridge and Pond street, was read and referred to the Street Committee. The Committee reported favorably and the lamps were ordered to be placed in accordance with the petition.

The matter of the crossing on Jefferson avenue and Wood street was referred to the Street Committee.

The crossing at Cedar and Penn streets, was referred to the Street Committee.

The application of John Dorrance for privilege of using the Dorrance street sewer, was granted.

The Street Committee were directed to take into consideration the question of sewerage law.

On motion of J. Wesley Wright, the sum of $45 was added to the appropriation for building the house for the Hook and Ladder Company.

On motion orders to the amount of $5.45 were ordered to be drawn in favor of S. S. Rue in payment for the building.

On motion the Treasurer was instructed to pay $10,000 to the Silby Manufacturing Co., being the last installment due on the Steam Fire Engine.

The constable asked for more blankets for the use of tramps and vagrants who lodge in the Town House basement. On motion he was authorized to purchase six pairs, and on motion Council adjourned.

DOYLESTOWN AND VICINITY.

The Catholic and Presbyterian churches were entered and robbed on Wednesday night of last week. At the Catholic church the thieves obtained a set of silver for communion purposes, valued at one hundred and fifty dollars.

But at the Presbyterian church they were not so successful. They entered the basement of the church by breaking a large pane of glass on the back of the building. Not finding the silver they gave vent to their disappointment by tearing the leaves out of the hymn books and destroying everything they could lay their hands on, the loss of the books &c., is estimated at about $50. At Frank A. LePage's last store a bundle of stockings was stolen. The thief was seen to commit the act by several bystanders. He started to run down an alley but was captured and brought back. He was committed to jail.

On the fair ground on Friday and Saturday several disturbances took place. In the crowd various lost their pocket books and watches. Some of the thieves were arrested. They hailed from Philadelphia and Trenton, and judging from their appearance were adepts at the game.

Prof. Harkins of Philadelphia gave a concert in Lenape hall on Thursday evening. The programme consisted of instrumental and vocal music by noted musicians from that city. The attendance was good and the audience appreciated the talent produced by the professor.

Governor Hartranft and Alton Wood Jr., Congressman from this district, were in attendance at the Fair during Friday. They came at 11 o'clock and proceeded directly to the grounds. They left at the 5 o'clock train for the city.

IRIAM A. WILLIAMS of Tinton was nominated by the Republican Standing Committee, for Assembly to fill the vacancy caused by the death of Iveson Mitchell the regular nominee. Mr. Williams says he will enter the canvass to win at the November election.

The Doylestown Fair.

The Doylestown Fair seems to be very unfortunate as far as the weather is concerned. Last year the general attendance was considerably decreased by the inclement weather. Tuesday last, every one looked forward to having pleasant weather, and the appearance of the day indicated fair weather until late in the evening when heavy clouds began to cover the sky. None of the special trains advertised arrived. The goods placed upon exhibition, kept the several committees at work during the whole day. The main building was well filled with all kinds of fancy articles. The ground floor of the grand stand was crowded with various kinds of grain. The track was in good condition, although some of the horses announced to trot, were sick. The display of stock was very large, several new stalls had to be erected for the accommodation of the cattle. The general features of the fair showed that those who had the charge and management of the affairs, took every care to provide for the wants of the exhibitors. The managers refused admittance to all soap vendors and gamblers, having in aim the morality of the hour.

On Wednesday morning the day dawned with a misty rain, which was very unpleasant and disagreeable. This did not seem to prevent the arrival of people from a distance. The attendance was large in the morning, but as the day advanced, the rain fell in torrents, compelling those who were in attendance to seek shelter in the building.

The track was soon made for use, and the trot for the day was postponed. The Doylestown Band was stationed in one wing of the building, discoursing music to the lively crowd there assembled. Promenadeing was done by the young men and women of the young people while the older ones commented upon the indications for fair weather.

ARTICLES ON EXHIBITION.

Hulshizer & Lutzeler, of Doylestown; Malin Atkinson, of New Hope, and Hillborn & Buckman were the principal exhibitors in the machinery department. Some of these were of the latest invention. Hillborn & Buckman had a log scaler, and judging by its general appearance, would do its work effectively. The carriages were stationed under the canvas tent, and although not so many as last year, but what was entered, were very fine. W. H. Atkinson, of Coopersville, had two heavy farm wagons. J. D. Hastings, of Burlington, entered several fine Linds and Falling Tops finished in his fine styles. J. D. Randall, of Newtown had several on exhibition.

The display of grain was very large; fine samples of wheat, potatoes, and oats, &c., covered the ground floor of the grand stand. Pumpkins, pears, and every other kind of vegetable were placed on the shelves. The largest pumpkin was exhibited by O. D. Myers, of Buckingham, weighing 132 pounds.

W. H. Stude & Son, of New Hope, had a large variety of stores from their store; Lowrey & Co., had a fine steam engine; W. H. Randall a sausage cutter.

The entries of live stock were larger than usual. T. S. Cooper, of Coopersville, had twelve very fine imported cattle; Mr. McKean, of Quakertown, also had two very fine bulls, one called "Duke of Chestnut Grove," weighing 1,500 pounds, and the other named "Prince Nicholas," weighing 2,250 pounds. Ezra Mitchell, of Gardenville, had several very fine milk cows. This department was very well filled.

LETTERS FROM A PROHIBITIONIST.

EDITOR GAZETTE:—Now is the time for all who have any sympathy with the cause of temperance, or any objection to the legalized sale of liquor, to give expression to their views. It is the golden opportunity to exert an influence in behalf of prohibition.

It is the first time within the present generation that a political campaign has been entirely and entirely devoid of any live issue. To-day there is no principle, political or moral, involved to divide the two recognized parties, and keep their organizations together. Hence the contest has degenerated into a mere struggle for the division of spoils, with nothing to choose between the two parties. The only difference being that one is now in possession, and fattening upon the plunder, and the other seeking the opportunity to show, that though for some years out of practice, they have kept fully up to the unequalled growth in political standing.

It is true the Republican is the party of great moral pretensions. It is also true that it was drawn together by a great moral purpose, but alas! it is equally true that no such purpose animates it to-day. They say to you, as if it was an unanswerable argument: "Why! in voting the Prohibition ticket, you vote for Prohibition!" And why shouldn't you vote for Prohibition? Though the Democratic may here have been recognized as the whiskey party, did not the Republican Governor, in approving the repeal of the Local Option Law, make a bid for the whiskey influence? No one will question that that was done at the instance of the party leaders, and as a party measure, and now in again accepting that Governor as their standard bearer for another term, do they not say to the whiskey ring: Vote for us, and we will do anything you ask?

No, gentlemen, any thing you get at the hands of either party, will not be from any sympathy with you, but because they are driven into it.

Long as you wheel into line and vote as they tell you, you will be spied upon.

But once assert your independence, and show them that you will not vote for a whiskey man; and that you are sufficiently strong to wield the balance of power, and you will have both parties at your feet. It is true you cannot hope to elect your candidates, and one of the other parties must be successful; but what matters it to you which, you have nothing to gain from either. So send your support to principle. Vote for the men who represent your principles, and poll a vote equal to the majority, by which your party is elected, and you will be afraid not to adopt your measures.
